

Farid Poursoltani

After a successful career in the trades for 13 years that earned him a Red Seal certification in the electrical field, Farid began teaching for the Electrical Joint Training Committee (EJTC) in 2012.

Farid is a Master instructor/trainer through the IBEW's National Training Institution (NTI) and has recently completed his Bachelor of Technology Trades and Technology Leadership.

In addition to his Red Seal and teaching at the EJTC, Farid is specialized in automation and HVAC controls installation, and is a certified Electrical Vehicle trainer/installer. He is also currently attending RRU to complete their Master of Business Administration program. With his extensive background and teaching experience, he has become an integral member of E2 Inc. & the EJTC.

Farid has recently been appointed E2 Inc. and EJTC's new Director of Business Development.
